REPUBLICANS NOW HAVE FULL TICKET IN M'CRACKEN CO.

Committee Fills Vacancies, Naming Candidate For Surveyor.

Also Select Committeemen For New Precincts.

ALL REPORT OPTIMISTICALLY

Vacancies in the Republican county ticket were filled yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the county committee, making a complete county ticket with the exception of a few districts without candidates for constables. The vacancies filled were: County surveyor, C. A. Flowers, of Woodville; magistrate Third district, John J. Clark; magistrate Fourth district, James Householder; constable Second district, Ben Martin; constable First district, N. B. Tabbscott. The places were not filled at the convention held about six weeks ago.

All the new candidates are well known by the people of McCracken county. C. A. Flowers, the candidate for surveyor, is a prominent resident of Woodville, and his integrity and qualifications are well known by the voters. John J. Clark is marketmaster. Both he and Mr. James Householder are well known. Ben Martin and N. B. Tabbscott, candidates for constable, are popular and if elected will fulfill the duties of the office in an intelligent manner.

The meeting was full of enthusiasm and several matters regarding the campaign were discussed. Several of the candidates were present, and all gave reports of splendid success, with bright prospects of victory in the election. No action was taken on arranging speaking dates, but it will be done soon. An effort is being made to have the candidates address the voters when most convenient. Speeches will be delivered both day and night.

Owing to the fact that several additional precincts have been created both in the city and county, new members of the county committee were appointed. The new members are: W. R. Treadway, Butler; Louis Wood, Diegel; C. G. Davidson, Young; David Browning, Bernhard; Fred Meyer, Lone Oak; Obe Wheeler, Gott; J. P. Brower, Lang.

Curtsies Reaches New York. New York, Sept. 22.—Glenn H. Curtsies, the American aviator, arrived here on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. He said his plans for flights in this country have not yet been settled.

GOOD SHEPHERD MISSION HAS SPECIAL SERVICES

The rain last night interfered with the special services that are being held in the new Good Shepherd house at Wallace park, but several of the musicians of town, both vocal and instrumental, have promised to be out tonight and help with the music, and the Rev. Mr. Wright will preach on "David, and His Three Heroes." Service begins at 7:30.

ARRESTED FOR BRIBERY.

Oklahoma City Pawnbroker and Police Involved in Scandal.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 22.—E. A. Gomez, a pawnbroker, charged with giving a bribe to Jack Armstrong, former deputy sheriff, who was arrested charged with accepting a bribe, was arrested today. Sheriff Dyer, one of the most prominent officers of the sheriff's force, resigned because of the arrest of Armstrong.

HARVARD HAS MANY COACHES

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 22.—With seven of Harvard's best football players of recent years as coaches on Soldiers' Field, the second week of practice started today with a rush. The men who were coaching the varsity, in addition to Head Coach Houghton and his two chief assistants, Leo Leary and Charlie Dally, were C. Blagden, '02, and H. H. Greene, '01, tackle and guard, respectively, on the winning 1901 team and R. A. Dorby, '04, and H. E. Kersberg, '07. The practice was a drill in individual work, and there was no line-up of a full eleven. Greene spent considerable time with Withington and Smith, who are the leading candidates for center. Blagden, Dorby and Kersberg put the other linemen through a long drill which included starting with the ball tackling the dummy and a half-mile run at the end. All of last year's veterans are now back, though there is doubt whether McKay and Ken-Donald will be eligible on account of conditions in their studies.

President Taft Did Not Mention Irrigation or Conservation in His Speech in the Denver Auditorium

Went to Senator Hughes' Home For Brief Rest Before Resuming His Tour—Speaks About Income Tax.

Denver, Sept. 22.—President Taft left for Wolhurst, Senator Hughes' home, this noon, where he will be entertained this afternoon. People were disappointed because he did not mention irrigation last night. He will give an irrigation speech probably at Salt Lake City.

On Income Tax.

Denver, Sept. 22.—President Taft arrived last night in the Auditorium, where Hyman was nominated as his opponent, faced an audience of thousands of noisy enthusiasts.

Switching from the main purpose of the discussion, the conservation of natural resources, the president last night defended the corporation tax feature of the tariff act as against the income tax proposition, which he acknowledged seemed likely to pass the senate until the corporation tax was devised as a compromise. The president strongly urged, however, that all the states adopt the proposed amendment to the constitution so as to make the income tax possible in time of need.

Joined By Ballinger.

Taft was joined by Ballinger, who will accompany him through the northwest. It is likely that the president desired a further conference.

Joseph Nelson Tubbs, Dead. Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Joseph Nelson Tubbs, engineer and expert on waterworks, died today at his home here. He constructed water works all over the country. He was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Waterworks Association.

TOM TIGER WOUNDED.

Notorious Indian Shot Through the Lungs at Sapulpa.

Sapulpa, Okla., Sept. 22.—Tom Tiger, owner of much oil land, but a "bad Indian" generally, who was to stand trial in the district court on a charge of murder, as the result of an old grudge was shot through the lungs early this morning by another Indian by the name of "Skeeter" and mortally wounded. "Skeeter" escaped.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE AT FRATERNITY BUILDING.

A false alarm of fire was turned in today at 12:30 o'clock and fire companies Nos. 1 and 4, were sent to the Fraternity building in a jiffy. No smoke could be found and the person who sent in the alarm could not be located. The alarm was received at the Palmer House exchange over the old phone and relayed to the Central fire station. Fire Chief Wood is making an investigation, and will prosecute him if the guilty person is found.

Cook Rose Late Today; Peary Goes to Island

New York, Sept. 22.—The Cook-Peary controversy is now a waiting game, each wishing to see the other's first act. Cook rose late today at the Waldorf-Astoria. He was greatly fatigued by yesterday's reception. He had a long sleep to prepare himself for interviews this afternoon. The hotel was filled with reporters and magazine writers. Peary left Sydney this morning for Eagle Island, Maine, via Portland. He owns the whole island and will stay there several days alone with his wife and children. While there he will prepare his final statement of his side of the Cook argument. He said he will accept no invitations to speak until the controversy is settled.

L. & N. ENGINEERS COMPLETE WORK HERE

After several weeks' work of running lines, the Louisville & Nashville civil engineers finished their work, packed their baggage and have departed. Maps of the surveys will be submitted to the railroad officials. The best entrances were surveyed to the city from the river opposite Metropolis, although the engineers seemed most favorably impressed with the survey made by the Paducah Northern railroad.

TO DEVELOP RIVER TRAFFIC.

Great Western and Southern Development Company Incorporated.

Dover, Del., Sept. 22.—A great western and southern development company was chartered here with a capital stock of $10,000,000 and with 114 incorporators, including prominent southern congressmen, Champ Clark and William J. Stow. The concern took the name of the Mississippi Valley Transportation company, and proposes to revolutionize traffic on the Father of Waters.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CENTENIAL FEATURE

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 22. (Special.)—The seventy-seventh anniversary of the Kentucky Christian mission work was the feature of today's Christian church centennial celebration. The report shows 53 men supported in the Kentucky field and $119,000 raised for home and foreign missions, and $24,000 raised this year for the state work.

RIVAL VOTERS CLASH.

Clashes of Stormy Primary Election in New York.

New York, Sept. 22.—After hundreds of arrests for disorders at the polls the most serious conflict of today's primary occurred in the Second avenue polls just before closing. Rival bands of two Tammany leaders clashed, forty shots were exchanged and three men wounded, one, Fred Erick Lucas, fatally. Several arrests were made.

Without exception the old Tammany leaders, who had contests on for leadership, won. In the Republican contests there were only two changes in leaders.

POSTOFFICE AT TYLER MAY BE DISCONTINUED

Postmaster L. G. Sears, of the Tyler postoffice, has resigned and the prospects are that the office will be discontinued as that recommendation has been forwarded to the postoffice department. Three rural routes pass the postoffice and the business has been dwindling for some time, until the postoffice was a greater expense than it was a benefit. The establishment of the sub-station in Mechanicsburg has removed many of the patrons and the business became slack.

Two More Are Served

Two more defendants in the night rider suits have been summoned by Elwood Neel, deputy United States marshal. Yesterday he served papers on George Snawdon, of Guthrie, treasurer of the Planters' Protective association, and Ed. Jones, of Julian, Christian county. Both are defendants in the Toomey, Gordon, Rucker and Wood damage suits.

FELIX EWING WILL DOUBLE IN OFFICE AND SAVE EXPENSE

Guthrie, Ky., Sept. 22. (Special.)—At a meeting of the directors of the Dark Tobacco association here to elect officers, it is reported that Fort declined to run for president and Felix Ewing will be elected president and general manager, cutting down expenses.

AVIATOR KILLED BY FALL FROM HIS AEROPLANE TODAY

French Captain Meets Death in Accident During Contest

Hardest Fought Battle of Moorish War.

HOE PRESS MAN PASSES AWAY

Paris, Sept. 22.—Captain Ferber, of the French army, was killed today when Voisin's biplane fell, while attempting a flight at Boulogne Sur Mer on the coast.

Hoe Press Man Dead.

London, Sept. 22.—Robert Hoe president of the Robert Hoe Printing Press company, of New York, died suddenly here today.

Hardest Moorish Battle.

Gibraltar, Sept. 22.—The fiercest fighting of the Moorish war is occurring today, according to despatches from the front. Riflemen, after yesterday's defeat, renewed the attack this morning, but Marina led all the troops against them driving them back with tremendous losses on both sides. Twenty Spanish officers were killed and the total is unknown. The Spanish forces in today's sortie is estimated at 40,000. Marina hopes the present battle will decide the war. He wants to strike a crushing blow before the reported reinforcements from Sultan Mulai Haifa reach Riflemen.

Valence, France, Sept. 22.—Three of the four "Chauvins of Drome" were guillotined today in the presence of a vast crowd, who cheered lustily as the murderers' heads were severed by the knife and dropped into the basket. The men joked each other and jeered at the crowd as they awaited their turn. Their crimes were so brutal that all France breathed easier when the guillotine had done its work. They had tortured, murdered and robbed 14 victims and committed innumerable crimes. They knew they would be killed, and each day in their cells said "one day less to live," jokingly as their crimes were detailed by witnesses in the court, they nudged each other in admiration. "Sorry," shouted the leader, as he was led to the guillotine. "We are sorry for nothing and nobody."

Mrs. Morris' Body.

Cherbourg, France, Sept. 22.—The body of Mrs. Nelson Morris leaves here today on the Kron Prinz Willhelm for New York, accompanied by her son, Ira.

The Northwest Passage.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—With the rest of the world's eyes on the Arctic, the Russian government today is making preparations to find its commercial value and will try to find a practical "northwest passage." Millions are to be spent next spring studying whether it is possible for ships to pass through Kara straits around Cape Chelluskin, the northernmost portion of Asia through Bering straight and down the Pacific coast to the Lena river. It would be a great boon to Asiatic commerce.

WITH CAVALRY SABERS.

Cuban Editor and General Fight a Duel.

Havana, Sept. 22.—A desperate duel with cavalry sabers was fought this afternoon in a private residence between Enrique Lowmz Del Castillo former congressman, and Wilfredo Fernandez, editor of El Comercio. Castillo was seriously wounded in his sword arm. The duel was the outcome of the Comercio's sarcastic reference to the general.

NO FIGHT FOR PRECEDENCE.

Admirals at Hudson-Fulton Celebration Friendly.

Berlin, Sept. 22.—Admiral Von Koester, who is now nearing New York, where he will represent the German navy at the Hudson-Fulton celebration, has no intention of engaging with Admiral Sir Edward Seymour or anyone else in a controversy over the question of precedence.

It came to Admiral von Koester's attention before he left Berlin that doubt had arisen whether he or Admiral Seymour held the higher rank. Admiral von Koester and Admiral Seymour are old friends, and for this and other reasons the admiral declines to become party to any dispute. He will leave the question of precedence, if there be such a question, to be determined by the American authorities in accordance with international custom.

Three Hundred Reported Dead in Gulf Coast Tidal Wave by Wire to New Orleans---Is First Word

Thousands Without Food For Two Days and 400 Marooned Train Passengers Reach Crescent City in Boats.

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Refugees reaching New Orleans today from the southwest Louisiana coast say 300 people were killed in the tidal wave, which swept two miles inland from the gulf for a distance of more than 25 miles, inundating without warning homes of thousands of fishermen and planters. The wave was felt from Grand Island to Vermilion parish. Most of the telephone wires are down. The estimate of dead in a telephone message from Houma is 300. Whole city squares of New Orleans are under water. Scores of people in the storm swept regions have been without food two days. The loss of property is estimated at ten millions. Four hundred people marooned on trains for two days were brought to New Orleans by boat this morning.

The wave rose without warning. Fully 5,000 persons live in the territory swept and the reported loss of 300 is said to be a very low estimate. Telegraph wires to New Orleans are still down and messages to the inland come over the only working telephone wire via Atlanta. Estimates of the damage inland from the storm, today are increasing.

Jackson, Miss., Meridian, Miss., and Vicksburg and Natchez are said to be among the heavy sufferers. It is believed there was great loss of life in other parts of the coast and the inland not yet heard from. Fully fifty are believed to be dead besides those from the tidal wave.

Word received at noon today says Natchez was heavily damaged by the storm. The streets are strewn with wreckage, but no lives were lost. Trains left here yesterday reported making progress and are expected to reach Jackson, Miss., before night.

Galveston News.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 22.—A brief wireless message was received here today from New Orleans, then communication was cut off. It confirmed the report that 300 were killed by the tidal wave along the Louisiana coast. Communication with New Orleans except by wireless is impossible.

BAILEY WON'T DEBATE.

Is Going to Washington and Cannot Meet William J. Bryan. Houston, Tex., Sept. 22.—Senator J. W. Bailey arrived here this morning. Bailey said that he will seek no debate with William Jennings Bryan, that he will go to Washington in a day or two, and is uncertain when he will be able to return to Texas.

THE TWIN FELL OUT AND THEN GOT INTO TROUBLE.

Out of the frying pan into the fire was the experience of Mandy Westbrook and Tom Jones, colored, yesterday afternoon in the court of Magistrate C. W. Emery. Now both are in the county jail with a sentence of 30 days over their heads on the charge of adultery. Matilda Murphy brought suit in the magistrate's court to force Jones to pay house rent, and in the evidence it was developed that the house was rented for an immoral purpose. Jones was happy when it was announced that the rent could not be collected, but in a few minutes his expression changed to sadness for he and Mandy were arrested on the charge of adultery, tried, and sent to the county jail.

MINNESOTA IS IN MOURNING FOR HER GOVERNOR TODAY

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—One of the most remarkable tributes ever paid to the memory of a public man of Minnesota was accorded the late Governor Johnson. At Rochester all activities were abandoned. Banks, stores and offices were closed.

Along the Great Western railway over which the body was brought from Rochester, the buildings were draped. At Zumbrota the school children lined up at the station, each provided with a flag pointed downward. There were similar receptions elsewhere.

Despite the heavy rains thousands swarmed around the train here. The procession to the capital was escorted by the militia. The body was placed in the rotunda, where it will lie until this evening. Thursday the body will be taken to St. Peter for burial.

BLACKNALL AND COOK HAVE EACH OTHER ARRESTED

Former Employee of Restaurant Says Strong Drinks Are Sold There.

Edwards is Charged in War-rant With Fighting

CASES IN CITY COURT FRIDAY

When C. E. Blacknall, restaurant keeper at Eleventh street and Broadway, arrested several times for selling various brews, and his cook, Mack Edwards, fell out, a mutual exchange of police warrants took the place of the usual courtesies of the code duello. Edwards has arrayed himself on the side of the good government league and declares Blacknall's place is a blot on the fair name of the city. Mr. Blacknall considers Edwards is a fighting man.

Edwards went to the city hall after he had severed his connection with the restaurant and told what he could prove against Blacknall if a warrant was secured. Edwards was advised to swear out the warrant himself. Blacknall, however, forestalled Edwards by swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Edwards and J. Davidson for fighting in the restaurant. Then Edwards swore out his warrant on the charge of violating the Sabbath by selling near-beer and pale ale on Sunday, September 12. The cases in police court were continued today until Friday morning.

Edwards testified that he bought a bottle of pale ale at the store. John Blacknall, who was on watch at the time, positively denied selling any drinks other than coca-cola and Dr. Pepper. Other witnesses swore that the drinks were poured into stone steins and the liquor resembled pale ale or stout beer to the taste. Edwards swore that the liquor he drank caused him a queer sensation.

STAVING OFF PROSECUTION.

Indicted Cape Girardeau Officials Are Active.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Sept. 22.—A strenuous move is on foot to quash the grand jury indictments returned against Mayor Leming and six councilmen and also against Fred Saxton, one of the publishers of the Daily Republican. Depositions were taken by the sheriff and witnesses are being examined before Lee Bowman, notary public.

The intentions are to bring the matter up at the adjourned term of the circuit court, which meets in November, and either have them set aside or not prosecute same on the grounds that there is not sufficient evidence to convict.

The prominence of the parties indicted and the final results has aroused general interest throughout southeast Missouri. Nothing will be left undone to keep the case from coming to trial and much criticism is heard on both sides of the case.

WELL KNOWN TRAVELING MAN BECOMES PARALYZED.

Col. Victor Van de Male, the well known traveling salesman, is in a critical condition at Hotel Craig, where he has been ill for several months. Little hope is entertained for his recovery, as yesterday he was stricken with paralysis that may be fatal. His entire body is affected and several times he was thought dying, but at intervals regained strength. Colonel Van de Male has traveled out of Paducah several years and has a host of friends. Several months ago his condition became serious and yesterday afternoon, while talking with Dr. H. P. Sights, the stroke seized him and the prompt attention of his physician no doubt saved him from sudden death.

CAPT. J. R. BROWN FALLS INTO HOLD OF STEAMER.

Capt. J. R. Brown, of the little steamer City of Birmingham, stumbled and fell in the hold of the boat about 9 o'clock this morning, sustaining a fracture of two ribs of the left side. He was conveyed to his home, 204 Monroe street, in a carriage, where he will be confined several days.

SIDEWALK WORK WILL BE CHEAPER

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS REDUCES REQUIREMENTS.

Construction Will Not Start Until Next Spring on Recently Ordered Work.

OIL PURCHASED FOR STREETS

Recent improvements ordered by the general council will be made as economical as possible on the property owners by the board of public works, which met yesterday afternoon and considered the ordinance, ordering concrete sidewalks on Clay street between Eighth street and Fountain avenue; Twelfth street between Kentucky avenue and Tremble street; and Fountain avenue between Monroe and Tremble streets. City Engineer Washington will have the plans and specifications ready sometime in October and bids will be invited in a few weeks. Owing to the contract being a large one, the board decided to advertise in the municipal journals, and secure as much competition as possible.

Regarding the specifications, the members of the board thought it unnecessary to require the most expensive kind of work in the residence section. Many people of moderate means reside on the streets out-lined for improvement, and the board will reduce the expense as low as consistent for substantial work. This will be done by reducing the depth of the granite curbing, while the width of the pavement will be five feet instead of six feet. In a rough estimate City Engineer Washington figured the work would cost the owner of a lot fifty feet wide about $92.

When completed the payments will be a great benefit to the residents of the northern section of the city. The ordinance prescribes that the work shall begin before January 1, but it will be impossible to complete the work before next spring. Therefore the board will award the contract this fall, and then grant the contractor an extension of time. To plow up the entire sidewalks would make life miserable for the pedestrians this winter.

In District, No. 2.
All property owners within the boundary of sewer district, No. 2, on the routes of the sidewalks will be required to extend the sewer laterals to the property line even if the connections are not made.

Mr. Lack reported that it would not be advisable to install any more street arc lights without purchasing a new steam engine for the city lighting plant. The present engine has a tremendous load to pull, and a few more additional lamps might result in a breakdown.

J. H. Ochelschlaeger reported that the sidewalk on North Sixth street is in bad repair, and the board directed a letter to the Messrs. Fitzpatrick, instructing them to make the repairs, as they gave a maintenance bond when the work was done.

City Engineer Washington said a concrete inspector will be needed when the work on the concrete culvert is begun by Contractor W. L. Yancey on Seventeenth street. He said he would employ George Gardner to inspect the work.

The graving of the alley between Twelfth and Thirteenth street, Broadway and Jefferson street was reported completed by James Caldwell. The board decided to inspect the work next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Oil For Streets.

The board ordered a tank of oil with an asphalt base to be used as an experiment on the streets. Should it prove a satisfactory dust settler and a preserver it will be given an extended use next year. The work will be done next week, and eight squares on Broadway and eight squares on Jefferson street will be used as a test. A city sprinkler will be used to spread the oil, and then a layer of sand will be spread which will form a cement, and hold the oil. It has been recommended highly, and as the board secured the oil for 8 1/2 cents a gallon, the members thought it advisable to try it, as springing with water is expensive and relief is obtained for only a few hours.

Present at the meeting were: President Richard Rudy, Secretary Louis F. Kolb, and Mr. F. E. Lack.

ROCKY ROAD FOR DETROIT TIGERS

PHILADELPHIANS HOPEFUL FOR TIGERS' DOWNFALL.

New York Also Expects to Make Trouble for Jennings' Mich. Gauleys—Quakers at Home.

THE BOSTON SERIES IMPORTANT

New York, Sept. 22.—The struggle between Detroit and Philadelphia for the American League pennant is so close tonight that the championship may not be settled until the last few games scheduled. The Detroit hold first place, but Quaker fans enjoy renewed hope and eagerly await the result of other games to be played by the Tigers with the Highlanders, Boston Red Sox, Washingtons and Chicago White Sox, Mack's men trying conclusions meanwhile with Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and Washington.

Philadelphia says that Detroit will meet with more serious opposition in this city and in Boston than the Athletics will contend with in the coming contests with the Western teams, so that the Tigers' performance from now right up to the last two games of the season with the White Sox, one in Chicago and the other in Detroit, will be of vital importance.

The Detroit will probably play four games in Boston, and according to Quaker prophets they will be extremely fortunate in getting an even break. They have four games here in all with the Highlanders and as Stallings' men are trying desperately to clinch into fourth place it is thought that Jennings' men will have a hot pace cut out for them. Philadelphia fans, recalling last year's history, say they do not expect the Washingtons to oppose the Detroit with any degree of strength, but they are banking on the White Sox to win at least one game from the chain plons.

Expect Easy Marks.
Meanwhile the Athletics are expected to make a clean sweep of their games with St. Louis and Cleveland, as those teams are thoroughly demoralized. It is also the opinion that they can win at least two out of three games from the White Sox with two sure victories over the Washingtons. If this prophecy comes true, therefore, Philadelphia says the Athletics will win the pennant and will then meet Pittsburgh in the world's series.

When the Detroit came east in the previous tour they had a lead of seventy points, but went home in second place. Jennings quickly strengthened the team by securing Jones and Delehanty and forged to the front again. There is no doubt that the Tigers will play better ball on this last trip, but Jennings admits that in order to win the championship once more his men will have to win practically every game between now and October 2.

Boston May Snag 'Em.
It is apparent, therefore, that Detroit's pennant chances depend almost wholly upon the coming games with the Red Sox and the Highlanders, both of whom are playing fast ball. The Highlanders won three out of four games from Detroit the last time they were here, while Boston repeated the trick in summary fashion.

As the Giants have beaten the Cuba out of the National League pennant, it would be a novel coincidence if the Highlanders subjected the Tigers to similar treatment. Manager Stallings, who formerly managed the Detroit team, says his men will make the Tigers fight for their lives when they come here next Friday, and predicts that the Highlanders will take at least two of the four games. All of which means that every game played by the Detroit and Athletics up to the end of the schedule will be most bitterly contested.

Pirates Are Favorites.

As Pittsburgh's most severe strain is practically over it is believed that the Pirates will be in far better physical trim for the world's series than either the Athletics or Detroit, and for that reason they will have at least one advantage. But no matter which team they meet, the National League champions will have to play phenomenal ball to carry off the honors. Eastern ball fans are naturally rooting for the Athletics and if they finish ahead of Detroit there will be an increased interest in the world's championship struggle.

The Highlanders have a chance to finish fourth. By taking three from the Sox they may do the trick. Stallings' men hope these teams will suffer an unbroken string of defeats in Philadelphia.

New York fans cannot hide their delight over the downfall of the Chicago Cubs, which has been brought about by the Giants. The way the Cubs beat the Giants out of the pennant last year has not been forgotten here, so that revenge in this case seems unusually sweet.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Henceforth the largest crowd of the season, Washington and Detroit split even in the double-header, the first going to the visitors by the score of 3 to 1, while the locals scored a shutout in the second, 2 to 0.

Willets and Gray fought it out in the first round and the former was much the better, as he allowed but two hits, a bunt hit Milan and a clean drive by Street.

Gray was hit safely six times, one of the hits being a beautiful drive for three bases to the clubhouse by Smith. A phenomenal catch by Cobb in the sixth inning probably saved the game. With two on bases and two out, Leivelt hit into short right. It appeared as though the ball would surely fall safe, but Cobb came in on a run, diving for the ball, and although he slid along on one side of his face, he came up with the ball.

In the second game Detroit found Walter Johnson a great puzzle, especially when a hit would have scored runs. Kilian allowed three hits to be bunched in one inning. Scores: First game: R H E Washington 1 2 2 Detroit 3 6 2 Gray and Street; Willets and Stanley. Second game: R H E Washington 2 6 1 Detroit 0 6 1 Johnson and Street; Kilian and Schmidt.

ting Chicago out 6 to 0. Brockett, who started to pitch for the locals, had to retire in the second inning on account of illness. Warhop, who took his place, was effective. Two runnings catches by Messenger were the fielding features of the game. Score: R H E Chicago 0 6 2 New York 5 7 1 Scott and Owens; Brockett, Warhop and Sweeney.

Old Champs Best Try.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 22.—Cy Young was beaten on the local grounds for the second time since he left the Boston club last year, the home team winning 7 to 3 in an uninteresting game. The veteran pitcher was hit hard, while Smith was generally effective. Manager McGuire was presented with a large floral piece during the game. Score: R H E Cleveland 3 7 2 Boston 7 11 2 Young and Higgins; Smith and Carrigan.

Quakers Die at Plate.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 22.—St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 2 to 1. St. Louis was made up of three young outfielders with two of its regular outfielders in infield positions.

Halley held Philadelphia to three hits, one of which was a scratch home run by Oldring in the fourth inning, when Compton fell trying to stop a long drive. St. Louis tied the score in the seventh inning by Morgan and Wallace's single. In the eighth inning Philadelphia had the bases filled with one out, but Morgan was caught trying to score on an attempted squeeze. Collins, the batsman, missing the ball. Hart scored the winning run in the ninth on his single. Griggs' sacrifice, Devo's out and Wallace's single.

Parker doubled in Philadelphia's final turn at bat and took third on Davis' out, but the former was doubled up at the plate when Murphy sent a fly to Compton.

Score: R H E Philadelphia 1 3 2 St. Louis 2 7 1 Morgan and Livingstone; Halley and Kilmer.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 22.—Pittsburgh won both games of a double-header with Boston, shutting the visitors out both times. The feature was the batting of Wilson, who made a hit every time at bat. Both games were interesting, brilliant plays being made on both sides. Seven double plays were made in the two games. Score: R H E Pittsburgh 2 7 1 Boston 0 3 1 Adams and Gibson; Curtis and Graham.

Second game: R H E Pittsburgh 5 9 1 Boston 0 6 1 Cannitz and Gibson; Mattern and Burden and Smith.

Wild Throw Is Costly.
Cincinnati, Sept. 22.—Philadelphia was defeated in a loosely played game, the winning run being scored on a pass to Rescher, a stolen base and Jacklitsch's wild throw to centerfield. Errors were responsible for all the runs scored by the visitors. Dooh was spiked in the fourth inning and was forced to retire.

Score: R H E Cincinnati 4 9 4 Philadelphia 3 7 1 Ewing, Irtwan and Roth; Moore and Dooh and Jacklitsch.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22.

Daily Thought.

They who really sympathize know the eloquence of silence.

This is the last day of summer.

All Kentucky is rooting for Louisville's bunch of pennant hunters.

"Judges should not be condemned so quickly by the public as being responsible for delaying litigation in the courts," said Judge George A. Carpenter, chief justice of the circuit court at Chicago. "Lawyers and litigants are more responsible for the delay of justice in these personal injury cases than the judges."

Judges can hurry attorneys and litigants, if they are not afraid of their jobs.

A MODERN ROMANCE.

To those who love a soul stirring romance, who love to feel their blood tingle in the suspense of right's victory over wrong; to those, who enjoyed the pathetic appeal of Dickens' little waifs; to those, who seek inside knowledge of municipal ways that are dark and vain; to those, to whom human nature in all its varied manifestations appeals, we would recommend the "Beast and the Jungle" by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of the juvenile court of Denver, now running in Everybody's. It is not a story of the juvenile court. It is the story of Ben Lindsey, a poor boy, who under the stress of hunger and the pall of a future of darkness, tried to commit suicide, failed, and grew into a man, rendered super-sensitive by his personal knowledge of human despair, temptations and struggles, sweetened by adversity and keen to help those, who need it just where he found it lacking in his own case.

Nothing more dramatic exists in fiction than the modest comparison of Judge Lindsey's character with that of his partner, unnamed "for old sake's sake". Here were two young men, actuated by the same ideals, Lindsey slow of purpose but spiritual; his partner quick, active, resolute, courageous, handsome and popular. They fought through the Colorado legislature their reform measure, and then came clients from the world of the municipal jungle, who paid them exorbitant fees for ordinary services. Lindsey declined further services. His partner, tempted with ambition for political elevation and wealth, applied to the situation the time worn doctrine that the retainer justifies the lawyer in accepting any client, and his duty to his client justifies him the rest of the way. They separated, and now after these years, Judge Lindsey stands prominently forth a national figure, revered beyond all his countrymen with possibly, a half dozen exceptions. His partner remains unnamed, perhaps well known, despised and rich in Denver, having sold his birthright of character, personal and professional, for the pottage of his retainers, to become the tool of unpunished criminals.

Their characters diverge at the point where Judge Lindsey said his partner was possessed of self-confidence, while he was afraid of himself. Lindsey's partner cared about what others thought of him. Lindsey cared about what he thought of himself. Lindsey cherished his own self-respect. The other justified anything he might do by custom. His criterion was "others do it and no one thinks the worse of them." And yet, Lindsey in the infinite charity of his heart and love for the man, says he was innately good, and when he threw his own self-respect to the winds, he did no more than ninety-nine in every hundred do.

We know of no more fascinating, entertaining and thrilling narrative, whether of the days when knighthood was in flower or of modern adventures, than the story of "The Cat and the Jungle."

THE PINCHOT CASE.

The tariff has become a dull subject of discussion, and all other national questions will pall; but the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy will not down until the public is enlightened with a word of authority.

Collier's weekly and the anti-administration papers may be all wrong and doing Secretary of the Interior Ballinger great injustice—in fact we think they do—but all the same, it is gratifying to observe how the conservation of natural resources has gripped the public attention and how jealous the people have become of the nation's wealth, which heretofore they have permitted to be stolen without a word of protest. Thank Mr. Roosevelt for that.

Mr. Pinchot, chief forester of the department of agriculture, is a rich man, a scientific forester, educated abroad, who gave his service to the country for the love of the work. His knowledge was so extensive and his work so thorough that he was permitted to overstep the bounds of his department and assume some authority in the interior department. Through his efforts vast tracts of western land, offered for homesteads, were arbitrarily withdrawn, because of the fear that corporations might place dummies on the land and steal coal, timber and water power.

Secretary Ballinger, a man with a record for uprightness and courage as mayor of Seattle, took charge of the interior department, and in strict conformity with the law opened some of the reserved land for entry. A department employee charged Ballinger with favoring wealthy interests. Ballinger gave orders for other departments to keep off the prerogatives of the interior department hereafter, and the matter was put up to the president.

Knowing the close association between President Roosevelt and President Taft, the sympathy of the latter for the policies of the former, and Taft's courage and sterling honesty, we feel sure that he would not countenance anything that even reflects in the least degree on the privity of his administration, while, on the other hand, he would stand by his subordinates in the face of any criticism.

This is the strength of Ballinger. Unfortunately, he comes from the new country, where they despise conservation as retarding progress. That is what causes the suspicion harbored against Ballinger, accentuated, no doubt, by a sneaking hope that by constantly accusing the administration they may eventually alight on something that is damaging. Pinchot is above suspicion. If he overstepped the line of the law in protecting the public domain, he did it for the single purpose of securing to the people all that he could. His duty is not to interpret law, but save the domain. We sincerely trust that both Ballinger and Pinchot will remain in public service; but there is no disguising the fact—and regardless of the merits of the case—that in view of the public temper, Pinchot's resignation would hurt little, while his remaining in office discredits those, who are attacking Ballinger.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

Just the reverse of the usual sorrow of landlords was reported by Mr. Fayette Grief, who found a family occupying one of his houses with only his knowledge, and he got the rent, too. Few property owners could tell a tale like it, although they could tell hundreds of incidents when tenants skipped out, leaving only the vacant house and a big rent bill. One of Mr. Grief's houses was vacant, and as he did not receive any applicants for the dwelling, he decided to make an investigation, and then found the family already in possession. At first he was startled, but later found the family were former tenants. "We couldn't find you, Mr. Grief," said the head of the house, "and we moved because we knew it would be all right." Mr. Grief agreed when a month's rent was paid, and said it was the first time he had had that joyful experience.

Hunting is expected to be good this fall, and already a number of birds are beginning to cast their eyes on their hunting outfits. Reports from over western Kentucky indicate that there will be some fine shooting when the frost gets on the pumpkin. The hunting laws have been obeyed by the majority of the hunters, and the young birds have had a chance to get on the wing. Farmers report a plentiful supply of the "Toh Whites," which is a music to the ear of the hunters. The season is some time off, but still the news is pleasant.

Halley's comet has been seen in Paducah. At least, a party of gentlemen believe they saw the famed heavenly visitor last night at 10:15 o'clock and enjoyed the sight for ten minutes. They were looking at Mars, speculating on the class of people who inhabit the planet, when they saw a star, with a tail like a fiery serpent, appear in the heavens just to the right of Mars, heading slightly north of west. As they watched, its tail grew plainer and gradually spread out until it was dissipated in the eternal blue above. They describe it as a beautiful apparition.

She was a member of the Baptist church and had a wide circle of friends. The remains were taken to Kansas, Graves county, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, where the funeral and burial will be held at 5 o'clock.

PRESIDENT TAFT

ence with Ballinger before stating the administration's aims regarding the conservation of resources. The president declared that the corporation tax was in itself the best form of income tax that could be levied. In urging that the states should vote for the amendment to the constitution, permitting the levy of a direct income tax, appropriating the proceeds among the states according to their population, the president declared that it would be possible to so amend the corporation tax as to include within its scope every desired feature of the income tax except a levy upon incomes derived from actual salary and professional service.

The president opposed the direct income tax except in cases of emergency and believed the constitution's prime fault is that no provision is made for a direct levy to meet war and other extraordinary expenses.

Taft declared that it was the supreme court decision, declaring unconstitutional the income tax, that prevented the lenders of congress from including in the corporation tax a measure providing for a levy upon bonds and bondholders. To tax bonds would result in a reduction of rates of interest, and hence would be a direct tax upon bondholders.

The president based his argument in favor of a corporation tax almost entirely upon the results of the income tax in England. The latter, he said, is not a direct tax, but instead taxed the income before it came into the hands of the individual. The English tax levied on the dividends of corporations, on rents before leaving the hands of tenants, and upon the individual directly in cases not covered by dividend and rents. England found that the direct income tax of ten per cent did not produce as much revenue as the present method of taxation at five per cent. This, he declared, illustrated the premium that the direct tax places upon perjury and concealment. One just distinction of the English law, he said, is that the income tax on stocks and bonds is higher than on incomes earned by individuals. Said the president:

An Equitable Burden.
"Under conditions that existed with reference to the constitution, it seemed clear that the corporation tax is an equitable burden, one reaching active business, not too heavy to retard it, but enough to collect a substantial revenue from those successful in business."

"It is a tax easily collected—one that no corporation can escape—one in which perjury cannot play any important part in escaping it. Incidentally it will give the government an opportunity to secure valuable information with respect to the conduct and condition of corporations. Their course of business may also be examined in detail if their returns are incorrect."

"Up to now we had no adequate statistics concerning corporations. Even their stockholders are generally ignorant, and any instrumentality by which corporations can be compelled to disclose conditions makes for the public good. Indirectly it would help much in another tariff revision, because corporations engaged in business affected by the tariff have upon record in Washington their condition respecting their incomes, expenditures and debts.

Puts Premium on Perjury.
"I am opposed to a general income tax law, except in times of national stress, because it puts such a premium on perjury and allows inevitable opportunities of escaping the tax. But I am most strongly in favor of the adoption by the states of an amendment authorizing congress to impose an income tax without apportioning it among the states according to population, because in times of war or other calamity when we strain our resources, the income will be an essential instrument by which we could collect money to enable us to meet any exigencies. I consider it an elemental weakness that the government is unable in times of emergency to levy such a tax."

Can Enlarge Corporation Tax.
"If the income tax amendment passes, we can enlarge the corporation tax so as to include a proper burden on bondholders. Those who favor a direct personal income tax for the purpose of restraining great wealth will probably find it ineffective for the reasons given."

"The proper authority to reduce the size of fortune is the state rather than the central government. Let the state pass inheritance laws which require a division of great fortunes between the children and the descendants and not permit the multi-millionaire to leave his fortune in trust, so as to keep it in a mass, and impose a heavy graduated inheritance tax. Gradually but effectively the concentration of wealth will thus be neutralized. The inheritance tax cannot be escaped, because the property must be adjudicated before transmission."

"I doubt not that information obtained through the new corporation tax will be made the basis for further regulatory legislation applicable only to corporations whose business is so largely interstate as to justify greater restrictions and more direct supervision."

STEAMERS SUNK

HELLE OF BENDS, BUCK ELK, CONNORS AND FAWN.

The Red Onion, of the Morrissey Mosquito Fleet, and Number of Pleasure Launches Go to Bottom.

Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 22.—The Belle of the Bends, the local Greenville packet, and the finest steamer of the Vicksburg fleet, was sunk by the hurricane which swept Vicksburg and is now under nine feet of water at Peeler's Landing, about 30 miles north of here. She was bound for Greenville and when the storm struck her she was run into a cove and tied up in shallow water. It is supposed that she struck a snag while shifting with the wind, and her hull was stove in. All on board escaped.

The Buck Elk, the Connors and Fawn, of the Houston Bros. saw mill were sunk. The Red Onion, of the Morrissey gasoline fleet, as well as a considerable number of gasoline pleasure boats, the property of various Vicksburgers, also went to the bottom during the hurricane.

The Buck Elk will prove a total loss. It was worth about $3,000, and the owner has insurance on the craft amounting to $1,500.

Near the eastern bank of the Yazoo canal part of the wreck of the ferryboat may be seen above the water. It will prove a total wreck.

There were watchmen on all the steamboats, but all of them got ashore before the vessels went down.

The steamboats Peerless and Mary H. Miller broke loose from their moorings and were blown down to the mouth of the canal and then stranded along the sand bar on the Mississippi side, near West Pass.

So strong was the force of the wind that two-inch hawsers on the Miller boats were snapped like threads, though the coils were brand new, having been placed on the vessels only a week ago.

The Henry Sheldon, of the same line, went over to the assistance of the stranded vessels, and it was reported that the Peerless and the Mary H. Miller suffered only slight damage.

ACTOR AND ATTORNEY.

Arrested in Chicago Following Disclosure of Plot.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—George Hazleton, Jr., an attorney, and L. Scott Kemper, an actor, both of New York were arrested last night following the disclosure by James H. Channon of an alleged plot to extort $160,000 by threats to publish charges that Channon, while guardian of the estate of Mabel Arey, a relative by marriage, had been guilty of irregularities.

Miss Arey married Henry Ludlam, an actor, and Channon then made a settlement of her property. Later Ludlam denounced a house in Chicago valued at $30,000, which he claimed Channon withheld.

Hazleton and Kemper threatened to expose alleged irregularities unless the demand was complied with.

TEACHERS

WILL MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON OF THIS WEEK.

Five Hundred Dollar Prize For Best School Exhibit at State Fair.

The first teachers' meeting will be held next Friday afternoon, and as usual the white schools will be dismissed at noon. This year the teachers will take up the study of Hagley's "Classroom Management." The book will be completed during the year, and Superintendent J. A. Carnagey is expecting a successful year. The management of the class room is important to all teachers, and in taking up the subject Prof. Carnagey thinks he has an important book for the teachers.

The new clocks for the schools have arrived and today Fred Hoyer was busy placing them in the class rooms. The clocks were ordered by the school board in the summer but the shipment was delayed.

C. M. McGrew, a member of the state fair board, of Smithland, was in the city yesterday and notified Superintendent Carnagey that the committee had authorized a prize of $500 to the school exhibiting the best exhibit of school work as the fair next year. Superintendent Crabbe was present with the committee and he will inform the school officials over the state and the rules of the exhibit. The Paducah schools will make an effort to get the prize. It is probable that the amount will be increased before next summer.

The senior class met yesterday afternoon and ordered the class pins. The pins will be square with "P. H. '16," while the class colors of black and gold will be prominent in both divisions of the senior class have the same class colors.

BILLIONS TO INVEST

FOREIGN CAPITAL AWAITS FEDERAL REGULATION.

Interstate Commissioner Lane Returns From Europe With Pointers From Financiers.

Washington, Sept. 22.—"Hundreds of millions of dollars are in England, France and Germany, awaiting investment in American railroad securities as soon as the investors can be assured of absolute federal regulation."

This statement was made by Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, of the interstate commerce commission, who has just returned from a trip of nearly three months in Europe. He visited, in his journey, England, France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy, and studied the railroad situation in all of these countries.

"Men of money abroad," continued Commissioner Lane, "are satisfied that America is on the eve of a phenomenal era of prosperity, and are ready and anxious to invest their money in any stable enterprise in this country; but what is wanted is some assurance from the government that their investments will be protected in a fair way. They would like to see the capitalization of our railroads hedged about by federal legislation, so that a purchase of stock would be assured of getting what he paid for. With the enactment of a law to prevent overcapitalization, American railroads would have no difficulty in obtaining in Europe the money necessary for their development."

Commissioner Lane will leave Washington the latter part of the week for Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the demurrage committee of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners. After the meeting at Chicago he will join the other members of the commission on the Pacific coast trip at Spokane.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 22.—What is probably a record number of children in one family was disclosed yesterday through the receipt of a birth certificate at the secretary of state's office, showing that Joseph Tatro, 58 years old, living in Pinconning township, Ilay county, is the father of twenty children and the step-father of twelve others, making a total of thirty-two living children in the family. At the time of his marriage to Hattie Chableneau, Tatro had fifteen children of his own, while she had twelve. Since then they have added five more to the list. His father is a native of Michigan.

Monk Eastman in Hospital.

New York, Sept. 22.—Last Friday a man whose badly scarred face attracted attention went to the Harlem hospital and asked to be attended to.

"I'm all in," he said. "I've got pains in my stomach and I've been suffering hell for days."

Dr. Bennett, Herrity and Cassini examined the man and found him suffering from gall stones. On his body they found scores of old bullet and stab wounds.

"When did you get those?" they asked.

"In the war," answered the man.

"Are you a Spanish war veteran?"
they inquired.

"Now," said he. "I picked them up in the wars around New York city."

The doctors were curious about the wounds and sent for two detectives from the Harlem detective bureau. The detectives at once recognized the patient as Monk Eastman the notorious East Side thug and gang leader.

Monk was let out on parole five weeks ago from Sing Sing, where he has been serving out a 10-year term for a first degree assault on a young man named Wetmore.

The Harlem hospital doctors decided to operate on Eastman yesterday and last night he was reported to be doing well.

W. D. HEDGE'S LEG WAS GROUND
UP LAST NIGHT.

Lumberman From Centerville, Tenn., Meets With Terrible Accident in Paducah.

With about an even chance for his recovery, W. D. Hedge, of Centar-ville, Tenn., was resting easy today at the Riverside hospital. He was run over by the Union Station street car at Sixth and Washington streets last night about 9:30 o'clock and his right leg was ground off to the knee, besides sustaining internal injuries,
and cuts on his head and left leg.
Physicians said he was in a desperate condition, being weak from the excessive loss of blood.

Hedge brought a raft to the city.
He was walking along the street and crossed the track in front of the approaching car. Before Motorman Joe Iverlett could apply the brakes he was dragged several feet, and the front trucks passed over his right leg. Hedge is about 50 years old, and owing to the wind blowing it is probable that he did not hear the bell, and walked in front of the car without seeing it. The patrol wagon was called and he was dragged from under the car and rushed to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the right leg above the knee.

Hedge was conscious after the accident, and was able to give his name. He has relatives in Tennessee, but was accompanied by a man, who assisted him in bringing the raft down the river.

PROMOTIONS ON I. C.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—With a view to strengthening the traffic department of the Illinois Central railroad, President J. T. Harahan has announced changes in the line of a reorganization. F. B. Bowes, who has held the title of freight traffic manager, has been given the title of general manager of the freight department, which includes the industrial department.
Donald Rose, who has been assistant to the president for several months, has been made freight traffic manager, succeeding to the title held by Mr. Bowes.

Mr. Rose's rise in the service has been rapid and it is understood that he earned his new position by the record he made in London as European agent of the Illinois Central.
Van Dyke Fort, formerly assistant general freight agent, has been made general freight agent of the northern and western lines, to succeed W. E.
Keepers. Mr. Keepers is one of the long term employees of the company and is to be placed in charge of the interchange freight business of the company. This business has grown so large that President Harahan deems it advisable to give it the undivided attention of an expert. J. H.
Cherry has been made assistant general freight agent, to succeed J. S.
Brown, promoted. His headquarters and those of Mr. Rose will be in Chicago.

WRITES MYSTERIOUS NOTE.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—After writing a mysterious note to her father, in which she stated that "the murder of her husband preyed on her mind,"
Mrs. Minnie Peters, 27 years old, 1910 Ogden avenue, was found dead in a gas-filled room at her home shortly before noon yesterday. Circumstances lead the police to believe the woman committed suicide. The woman's father is John Allison, of Pontiac, Ill.

The note left by Mrs. Peters read as follows: "Dear Father: This will be the last time I'll ever write to you.
The murder of Arthur Peters preys on my mind, and I don't know but what I did kill him. He deserves death from me, and so does his whole family—his father and mother. I loved him even though he was a bad man and a bartender."

"MINNIE."

Mrs. Peters and her husband are said to have separated, following a quarrel three weeks ago, and the husband had not returned to his home since.

Mrs. Mamie Johnson, landlady of the rooming house where Mrs. Peters had lived for the past two weeks, said she believed the woman was insane.

NEWS OF COURTS

In Police Court.

The docket read: Immorality—
Robert Ruff, Pearl Plant, George Jones, Beale Noise, John Thomas and Lillie Barnes, fined $20 each.
Breach of peace—Marshall Davis, fined $75; Sallie Fowler, dismissed on condition she leaves town; Lena Fowler and Jim Smith, fined $20 each; John Thomas, fined $40. Violating Sabbath—Will Taylor, fined $25; C. E.
Blackhall, continued until Friday. Obtaining money by false pretenses—Rube Wilkerson, held to grand jury under $300 bond. Breach of peace—Mack Edwards and J. Davidson, continued until Friday.

In Bankruptcy.

Two petitions in bankruptcy were filed in federal court. Burrell G.
Smith, an employee of the Illinois Central railroad, residing at 732 South Tenth street, filed a petition giving his liabilities at about $900 and assets amounting to about $200.

Rolan C. Hough, proprietor of a grocery and confectionery at Columbus, Hickman county, filed a petition pleading his liabilities at $1,256.75 and assets at about $720. A. M.
Laelson is a Paducah creditor.

Marriage Licenses.

Fred Pryor, 21, laborer and Ella
Burton, 16.

County Court.

Walter Page was adjudged a lunatic this morning and ordered sent to the Hopkinsville asylum. Page has been a successful restaurant keeper but for several years he has been ill and his mind became unbalanced.

Della Ward, colored, was adjudged a lunatic. She was too violent to bring into court. The woman was arrested last week and was given time in the county jail for breach of peace. Since she has been violent, refuses to eat, and several men were required to force her into a cell.

Fred Viviani, 11 years old, was adjudged an idiot.

NEW BRAND OF BLACK HAND.

New York, Sept. 22.—Joseph Lapolla, a young Sicilian who keeps a confectionery store at 460 Avenue C Bayonne, N. J., is locked up at police headquarters there on suspicion of being demented because he tells strange stories of a Black Hand organization that sent him letters telling him to be a better man, and then took him from his bed and tried to shoot him.

Last Monday he went to police headquarters at Bayonne and showed Chief Yore a letter all covered with red hands, red daggers and things when asked to interpret it, he said that it told him to lead a better life or suffer death. The chief sent him away, indicating that he was heart and soul for that kind of a Black Hand.

Lapolla, who is 25 years old, was found in the woods near Belleville N. J., yesterday morning. His clothes were torn and he was weak from hunger and exposure. He told Chief of Police Flynn, before whom he was taken, that on Thursday morning he was taken from his bed in an apartment above his confectionery store. Three men put him in a wagon took him to a house, covered him with chains and handcuffs, and then on Saturday night, having let him out into the open, shot at him, and left him, thinking he was dead, he said.

The police of Bayonne found that his bed had not been occupied at all since Wednesday night.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They will not regret it. For it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.

The Evening Sun's Daily Markets.

Livestock.

Louisville, Sept. 22.—Cattle—Receipts 63 head, for the two days, 2,813 head. The attendance of buyers was light, the market very quiet and no material change in conditions. Choice fat cattle were in good demand; medium and common butcher stock slow. Good healthy demand for desirable feeders and stockers at fully steady prices. Bulls steady, canners dull; milk cows unchanged. No prime heavy cattle here; feeling about steady.

Calves—Receipts 53 head, for two days 287. The market ruled steady to firm; bulk of the best 7 1/4 @ 7 3/4; some few fancy a shade higher; medium and common calves very dull; heavy calves hard to sell; medium, 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2; culls, 2 1/2 @ 4 1/2.

Hogs—Receipts 561, for two days 8,660. The market opened 5c higher on top hogs and lights, while pigs sold steady, selected, 165 pounds and up, selling at $7.70 @ 7.85; 120 to 165 pounds, $7.10 @ 7.55; pigs, $5.50 @ 6.90; roughs, $6.75 down. The market closed slow and weak. Do not ship grassy half-fat hogs to this market; buyers don't want that class at any figure.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 58 head, for two days, 670. The market ruled quiet; prices were generally about steady; a very good local demand existed for good butcher lambs and choice fat mutton sheep. The best lambs sold at 6 @ 6 1/2; seconds, 4 1/4 @ 4 3/4; culls, 3 @ 4. Choice fat sheep, 4 1/2 @ 4 3/4; common sheep dull. Nothing doing in the stock ewe trade.

HARDLY AN AUTOMOBILE IN TOWN

But that takes a turn each evening down the "speedway" of South Third St. and "round the loop." Yet very few know that they can get elsewhere the same luscious Sherberts, Ice Creams and Fountain Drinks which are served at Gilbert's 4th and Broadway store.

It's a fact, though. We serve here the same pure and tempting refreshments which have made the downtown store famous—they're made in the same place, in fact. That's why we feel safe in offering you a treat when you're out driving tonight. Won't you taste our quality?

Letter From Ewing.

Guthrie, Ky., Sept. 22. (Special)—To the Chairman, County and District, Officers of Association, Members, Prizing and Storagehousemen: I hereby respectfully call attention for the second time to the fact that in future no prize or storagehousemen will be permitted to begin the season's business, or receive association tobacco until his bond for the proper performance of contract to handle tobacco has been executed and evidenced by a certificate issued by the secretary of the association, countersigned by the county chairman and conspicuously posted about his business office. An application for bond is not sufficient. The only way the management has of knowing party can make bond is to have a bond in full view. This is a necessary protection to our members. The board of directors urgently requests every member to co-operate with the management to this end that there is no exception to this rule. All parties who desire to contract for a season's business had best correspond immediately with the agent of the guarantee company selected by the association so that the matter of contract and bond can be arranged simultaneously.

The season is almost at hand for prizing tobacco and consistent business men will realize that the tardy man is giving his opponents very great advantage. There must positively be no exception to this rule. The name of the guarantee company and its agent is as follows: A. H. Mason, general agent, Empire Surety Co., New York. Office in First National bank building, Nashville, Tenn. Yours truly,

F. G. EWING,

BRYAN GETS BACK AT SEN. BAILEY

SAYS TEXAN DEFENDED VERY ISSUE HE NOW ATTACKS.

Denies That Free Manufactured Articles Will Prevent Manufacturers From Shifting Burden of Tax.

BAILEY A PLATFORM JUMPER

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 22.—Hon. W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, arrived here and gave out a statement in reference to United States Senator J. W. Bailey's speech in Dallas Saturday night.

The statement in part follows: "I read Senator Bailey's Dallas speech. It is an able presentation of his position, as able a presentation as can be made, and I am very glad to have his side of the proposition presented by any one who can put the best appearance upon it, for when the voters of Texas have read it they will know that nothing better can be said in defense of a tax on raw material, and as he has not answered my arguments, the voters will have a right to assume that no one else can."

"He does not attempt to meet several of my arguments, and some of the others does not fairly present. His misinterpretation of history is surprising. He says that we were defeated in the congressional election of 1894 because the doctrine of free raw material was embodied in the Wilson bill. He certainly has not forgotten that the defeat in 1894 was due to the fact that the silver question divided our party at that time."

Repetition of Platform.

"And, further, if he will examine the election returns of 1894, he will find that about the only districts that we carried were the districts in those portions of the country in which he says the people resent the doctrine of free raw material, while we lost the districts in those portions of the country where they have practically no raw material to protect."

"He also overlooks the fact that in 1892 we elected a Democratic president and secured a large Democratic majority in congress on a platform which endorsed the doctrine of free raw material, and he will remember also that we won that victory after the house of representatives of the fifty-second congress had passed several free raw material bills, for which both he and I voted."

"He says that the national platform of 1896 was in harmony with the Texas platform of that year, and he demands the right to construe the tariff plank on the ground that he wrote it. That is the position taken by the Aldrich Republicans in regard to the last Republican national platform."

"As to the binding force of platforms, he does not meet the proposition which I presented. He discusses whether he shall be bound by a national platform made after his election, but he does not discuss the question whether an official had a right to repudiate a platform upon which he himself was elected, and which he himself defended during the campaign."

Defends His Own Argument.

"I affirm that an official is bound by his platform, but Senator Bailey, if I read his speech aright, does not express an opinion on this subject. He attempts to create the impression that the free raw material policy is intended to benefit the manufacturer."

"Senator Bailey labors to prove that a tax on raw material would not be transferred under his policy, but he inadvertently uses one sentence that establishes my position. He says:

"If the manufacturer transfers the tax on his raw material to his consumer, then I will tell you how to prevent him from doing so. It is as simple as the alphabet. Let us take the tax off the finished product, and then he cannot transfer his tax on his raw material."

"Yes, that is more than simple; it is absurd. His plan is to put a tax of 40 per cent on wool for the benefit of the sheep owners—that is the duty today—and by so doing increase to that extent the cost of manufacturers' raw material; but if the manufacturer attempts to add that increased cost to the price of the product, his product will be put on the free list. See how easy it is."

Tax Many For Few.

"No matter how patriotic the purpose with which the tax on raw material is proposed, it cannot be defended without resort to arguments that have been employed by the protected interests, and a protective policy cannot be adopted without these results, which follow as a matter of necessity."

"First, the many are taxed for the benefit of the few; second, men who get the benefit will attempt to corrupt politics in order to retain that benefit; and third, the greater the number of those who believe that the more difficult will we find it to secure tariff reform, for the protected interests will stand together, and a few will not be swayed by a majority."

"First, the many are taxed for the benefit of the few; second, men who get the benefit will attempt to corrupt politics in order to retain that benefit; and third, the greater the number of those who believe that the more difficult will we find it to secure tariff reform, for the protected interests will stand together, and a few will not be swayed by a majority."

Headache For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL, 63 High st., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

one but a small portion of the burden.

"I need not discuss the application of the principle of free raw material to the questions which were before congress. I can safely leave Senator Culberson to defend free iron ore, and I can leave him and heartily all the congressmen from Texas to defend the policy of free lumber. I have devoted my time largely to wool because wool is the keystone of the protective arch, and because the question was not before congress in such a form as to determine the position of senators and members of congress on the subject."

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers, in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. This preparation cures the hair, and restores the color of the past. In fact, it can be said to be a ready-to-use preparation called

LIBERIA THINKS BRITAIN CROWDS

LITTLE AFRICAN REPUBLIC COM PLAINS OF BOUNDARY.

Commission Appointed By Congress Is About Ready to Submit Report.

AMERICAN NEGROES RULING

Washington, Sept. 22. (United Press)—The commission which was appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate conditions in Liberia has about completed its report. It held a meeting this week for the purpose of going over its voluminous records and putting them in final shape for submission to Secretary of State Knox who, in turn, will transmit them to congress.

The commission consists of three members, with offices in the Malby building. R. P. Finkner is the chairman, the other members being E. J. Scott, the private secretary of Dr. Hooker Washington, and George Sale. On the recommendation of former Secretary of State Howell, endorsed by President Roosevelt, congress appropriated money to send these men to Liberia in response to an appeal from the little African republic which regards the United States as its mother country and which feels that it is being crowded out of existence by the English and French. They went there on the three American scout cruisers Chester, Birmingham and Salem, and spent three weeks in making an examination of the situation.

Their report, on which they are now putting the finishing touches, is quite extensive and covers practically every phase of Liberian governmental conditions. It will, it is said, have considerable to say about alleged foreign aggressions on the negro republic, and will urge that some thing practical shall be done by the United States to extend the commercial relations between the two countries while lending its moral support in a way more marked than has been apparent in the last few years.

The commissioners found that the American negroes originally sent there, and their descendants, to the number of 40,000 or 50,000, constitute the ruling class in a population of about 1,500,000 blacks. Civilization in Liberia is still in a primitive state. There are no means of transportation except by hammocks along over the shoulders of bearers, no sewage or other sanitary conveniences, and not even an ice plant. A cold bottle of beer is not to be found in the whole republic, one of the members of the party reported regretfully, and the drinking water is always at a high temperature. Back in the interior, away from Monrovia, the capital, the Liberians expressed their surprise that the Americans talked such good English. The last white man they had seen, they said, needed to say "me thinks," and this, evidently, a German trader they had taken for an American. That they themselves could make this criticism shows that they still have pride in their memories of the United States and of the language that they learned here.

Boundary Dispute.

The most serious problem facing Liberia is the boundary dispute with the British colony of Sierra Leone. The Liberians claim that the latter government has taken possession of about 350 square miles of their most valuable, most productive and most thickly populated territory on the northwestern frontier. Important trade routes center there, and the British are building a railroad into this strip which will deprive Liberia of considerable commercial advantages.

This dispute, with other questions at issue between Liberia and Sierra Leone, was investigated by the commission and Captain H. A. Cloman, the military attaché to the London embassy, and conferences were held with the British officials. Report of these, together with the views of the commissioners, on the subject, constitute a large part of the matter which is being prepared for the personal of Secretary Knox. Much of this material will be regarded as confidential and will not be included in whatever part of the report is sent to congress.

Among the recommendations to be made by the commission, it is expected, will be that a capable American be loaned to the Liberian government to put its financial affairs on a more stable basis, and that steps should be taken for a reorganization of the Liberian courts in which the administration of justice is said to be lax.

Anty Drudge Advises Another Housewife

Mrs. Housewife—"Mrs. Busybody called after dinner yesterday. She invariably comes after dinner and it is so aggravating when you have a big wash in the boiler on the fire. I didn't have time to prepare anything nice for her. And she'll go around telling everybody what a mean table I set."

Anty Drudge—"She's a regular 'after-dinner' caller, all right. Dinner is what she is after. But why don't you try Fels-Naptha? You would have your wash all through—and dinner, too, before she got here. But be sure to follow the directions."

Do you make your head save your hands? The woman who does has the easiest time. Do a little thinking. With Fels-Naptha soap you can wash clothes in cold or lukewarm water in about half the time it takes by the old-fashioned boiling, hard-rubbing way. It's easier on the clothes, easier on you, saves fuel, time and bother. Then the clothes are cleaner and sweeter than you can get them in any other way.

One cake of Fels-Naptha will prove this to you next washday. Be sure to follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Sometimes, women use ordinary soap for washing—painted wood work, floors, linoleum, oil-cloth, dishes and kitchen utensils, because they think it is cheaper than Fels-Naptha. They do not consider the results or extra amount of work they have to do with ordinary soaps as compared with Fels-Naptha.

HABES BENEFIT BY NEW SKIN DISCOVERY

Stops Itching Immediately, Soothes and Comforts the Little Ones.

A demonstration of the efficacy and entire harmlessness of poslam, the new skin discovery, is afforded when it is applied to the tender skin of infants who are tortured with rashes, chafings, scaly and crusted humors and other skin aggravations. Its effect is soothing, the itching stops at once, the skin heals and is quickly restored to normal condition.

In the various forms of skin troubles in both infants and adults, poslam produces beneficial results from the first application. Eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield readily to its remarkable curative properties. Occasional applications will quickly banish pimples, blotches and complexion blemishes and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc.

Poslam can be had for fifty cents at any reliable druggist's particularly Gilbert's and R. W. Walker & Co., who make a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 west 25th Street, New York City, will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX FOR JUSTICE

DECLARES PROFESSOR SELIGMAN OF COLUMBIA.

Interest in Session of International Tax Conference at Louisville Increasing.

OPPOSES CORPORATION TAX

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 22.—Prof. Edwin H. A. Seligman, of Columbia University, a recognized authority on taxation, in his paper on "The Relation of State and Federal Finance," read before the International Tax conference, proposed a solution of the controversy over federal imposition of inheritance, income and corporation taxes. In his discussion, Prof. Seligman said that a national income tax was not needed for revenue purposes but rather for justice. He expressed the view that either a revenue tariff with incidental protection or a protective tariff with incidental revenue can be made to yield desired revenues.

A national income tax is needed for justice, he said, because of the complete breakdown of the general property tax in state and local finance, because under existing state and local systems the possessors of large fortunes are not reached.

Prof. Seligman declared that the federal corporation tax was violative of sound economic and fiscal principles but that these objections are beside the mark because the real intent of the tax is not fiscal but social or regulatory.

"It was because of the failure of the states adequately to regulate interstate corporations that this tax was devised," he said. "As a revenue producer or even as a fiscal measure it is lamentably inadequate but as a regulatory measure it is pregnant of the most far-reaching beneficial results."

Prof. Seligman admitted that the income, inheritance and corporation taxes can be administered better by the federal government than by the state, but from the revenue standpoint the states need the money from such taxes.

Prof. Seligman sums up his discussion of the three big tax subjects by asking: "Why it is not possible to secure all the ends of suitability by having the taxes administered by the federal government under general federal laws, and why it is not possible to secure all the ends of adequacy by having the process apportioned in whole or in part to the various states? This is my solution of the difficulty: let the federal government assess the taxes and let the state government profit by the taxes."

Federal Corporation Tax.
Interest in today's session of the international tax conference centered on a paper presented by Hon. Lawson Purdy, president of the department of taxes and assessments of New York City, and a tax authority of wide reputation. Mr. Purdy's paper developed that he agreed with the attitude of President Foote, of the association, in his stand against the federal corporation tax but that he was not in sympathy with him in his objection to the proposed federal income tax.

The situation is decidedly interesting to the tax experts gathered here because of the standing of the opposing forces on the income tax matter. President Foote expects to lead a movement to have the association go on record against the federal income tax proposition as well as against the federal corporation tax. In the matter of the corporation tax he will have the help of Mr. Purdy, who is vice-president of the International Tax association, but he will have his vigorous opposition on the plan to adopt resolutions against the income tax.

In his address, Mr. Purdy said: "While the tax based on corporation income is called an 'excise tax'."

In the apparent hope that the phrase will disguise it when it is presented to the supreme court, it is in reality a partial income tax. Congress has endeavored to follow the latest decisions of the supreme court, and in so doing has enacted a law which has all the defects of the most poorly devised income tax and other defects peculiar to itself. It interferes with a source of revenue universally employed by the states and vital to many of them. For twenty-five years the states have gradually been advancing toward a complete separation of state and local revenues. One of the most important sources of state revenue, and in some states the most important is the tax on corporations. In some states these taxes are moderate and do not impose unnecessary burdens upon the corporations; in others, they are ill-devised, unequal and require peculiar and troublesome systems of accounting. The reports required by the federal government have no relation to the tax reports required by the states and therefore will compel additional accounting expense.

"The form of this tax on corporations income renders necessary a most inequitable procedure. The states have no power to tax corporations without prying into their business secrets, so far as revenue is concerned.

It is contended that this taxing act can be used to aid in the proper regulation of corporation activity. How this can be done does not appear, nor why it should be done. The United States government has power to regulate interstate commerce and exercises the power through the Sherman act. It has no constitutional power to regulate business corporations. These corporations are the creatures of the states. The states prescribe the rules for their creation and have power to prescribe the rules for their conduct. If the United States proposes to regulate these corporations it is exceeding its constitutional power and trampling on the power of the states.

"It has been suggested that the power to tax incomes should be reserved to the states. This suggestion must be made in derision or in profound ignorance. Several states have tried to impose income taxes and failed utterly, as they must fail. The only income tax law which has a chance of success must be patterned after the British Income Tax, which taxes all incomes and uses corporations as tax collectors. This requires nation-wide jurisdiction.

"From whatever point of view the federal corporation tax is studied it is unworkable and unjust; it encroaches upon the powers of the states; it is not productive of revenue; it is needlessly inequitable; the publicity required is rash and dangerous in the extreme. Its name is a subterfuge, it is an income tax and not an excise tax. It has the vice of income taxes without the merits of an income tax law scientifically framed. The states can not frame income tax laws that are workable because they lack jurisdiction of the sources of income and incomes must be reached at source to be taxed effectively. If incomes are to be taxed the United States must tax them. In any event the United States should have the power. In view of the decision of the supreme court in the Pollock case, it now seems necessary to amend the constitution in order that that power may be certain and definite."

DR. COOK PICKS HIS TRIBUNAL

HAS GIVEN BRIEF SKETCH LIKE ALL OTHER EXPLORERS.

Explorer Says Rasmussen Read His Entire Records Months Before Government Was Notified.

UNIVERSITY OF COPENHAGEN

New York, Sept. 22.—"I shall await events," said Dr. Cook just before he left the dock of the Oscar II at quarantine to be brought to the city by the welcoming committee.

"When my material has been gotten together and put into shape it will be submitted in the first instance to the University of Copenhagen. After that it will be laid before the geographical societies of the world. I will not consent to submit any fragmentary portions of my observations or of my records to any one. The report and all the data connected with my trip must be examined in their entirety, together with my instruments, some of which have in my possession now, and others of which are on their way to America.

These will be all properly controlled and tested by submission to the scientific bodies."

Asked why he did not immediately give full details of his achievement, Dr. Cook said:

"I have given to the public a concise account of my journey similar to that always given by explorers on their return from a journey of exploration. For the present no other details are necessary, and as a matter of fact no further specific evidence of my claim have been called for from any side. It has never been customary hitherto for explorers to make their full records public in such haste. As a rule, scientific societies are not remarkable for their rapidity in coming to conclusions, and they are usually content to wait until complete data are compiled."

Denmark Knows Details.

In regard to the full recognition of his feat by Denmark, Dr. Cook said:

"Dagard-Jensen, Inspector of Danish North Greenland, after hearing Rasmussen and talking with Gov. Kraul, of Upernavik, who had seen and read the entire record telegraphed to the Danish government in Copenhagen, his assurance of the truth of my declarations and guaranteeing them as authentic. The Danish authorities in Greenland, who are in reality the advisers of the Danish government and the University of Copenhagen, as well as the Danish Geographical society, have, on their report, taken over the virtual guarantee of the sincerity and authenticity of my records.

They have stood up for them, so to speak, before the world. They do not ask me to furnish any further proofs or evidence of any kind, but in justice to Denmark it is my intention to place the first completed record of my polar journey at the disposal of the University of Copenhagen."

Wants to See Peary's Charge.

Referring to Commander Peary, Dr. Cook said:

"I have as yet heard nothing but vague reports. I prefer for the present to believe that the statements which have been attributed to Peary are incorrect. I am fully prepared to meet any charges, but I must first see something definite. I am absolutely certain that none of the reports that have appeared in print emanate either from my Eskimos Ahwah and Etukshuk, or from Harry Whitney. Mr. Whitney has without any doubt kept his promise to me not to say anything about the expedition and its results, and I feel sure of my Eskimos. Mr. Whitney will return to America about the middle of October. He has complete knowledge of all the facts. He is at entire liberty to make public all that he knows. He is neither bound to stand up for me nor for Peary.

"The arrival in America of the Eskimos who went with me to the pole depends entirely upon the possibility of obtaining a vessel to bring them this year. Every effort has been made to secure one, and if at all possible, they will be in New York this year. That they will come is certain, and I intend to give them a year in America. They will be open to any kind of examination and will be ready to reply to any questions. Knud Rasmussen will also be requested to come over to New York as soon as he lands in Denmark.

Will Stay in New York.

"I intend to stay in New York for the present. While there I shall complete my work. I have not made any arrangements for lectures, and I have not yet decided whether I shall deliver any addresses before my work is done. I should not, however,

NO ANSWER

WOODSON MAY WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT MEETING.

Says It Is Strange Chairman Prewitt Cannot Tell When It Took Place.

London, Ky., Sept. 22.—Woodson May, member of the Democratic state central committee, and treasurer of the permanent state headquarters committee, who, with his wife, is visiting her father, the Hon. J. C. McKee, of this place, today gave out to the press a copy of a letter mailed to Secretary R. B. Phillips in reply to one he had received from Mr. Phillips notifying him that he was unable to furnish any information regarding a meeting of the state central committee, said to have been held in Louisville, September 1, because Chairman Henry R. Prewitt failed to answer his letter asking for information about the meeting. Following is a copy of the letter to Secretary Phillips:

"London, Ky., Sept. 20.—The Hon. R. B. Phillips, secretary state central and executive committees, Elizabeth town, Ky.—Dear Sir: Your letter stating that you failed to receive any reply to your communication to Chairman Henry R. Prewitt, was forwarded to me here, for which I thank you. Just why the chairman of the state committees should withhold the minutes of a meeting of either of the committees, when the secretary is absent, surpasses my comprehension, when the party law enacted by the Democrats of the state in convention which elected Mr. Prewitt chairman—especially provided that the secretary shall keep a record of all business transacted by either or both of the state central or executive committees, and that such record shall be at the disposal of any member of the aforesaid committees at all times. It occurs to me that the action of Chairman Prewitt in failing to furnish to the secretary the minutes of the meeting alleged to have been held in Louisville September 1, at which time a state campaign committee is said to have been created, is somewhat mystifying, especially in view of the fact that he furnished you with a copy of the resolution, which, he says, was passed at that meeting. Just what reason he should have for failing to furnish the secretary with the names of the members of the state central committee who were present in person and how each member voted on the resolution offered by the member from the Seventh district—S. A. Combs—is what I am at a loss to understand.

Ugly Rumors.
"Many ugly rumors have been afloat since the newspapers heralded the action of that alleged Louisville meeting, many of them charging that only four or five members of the committee were present in person, when in fact, it requires seven present in person to constitute a quorum, and before any business can be transacted; and these reports have gained such widespread attention all over the state that, unless by an open record of said meeting, giving the names of the members present in person, and also by proxy, and how each member voted, I fear much injury will be done the party in the state. These charges—which are coming to me from all parts of the Eleventh district—that there is 'a negro in the woodpile,' and that the meeting held in Louisville was a 'star chamber session,' should be refuted by giving out the names of those members of the committee who were present at said meeting in person and by proxy and how each member voted on all propositions coming before said meeting. Unless this is done the ugly charges will be given credence and will do the Democratic party of the state no good. Thinking it possible that your letter to Chairman Prewitt may have miscarried I would suggest that you write him again. Thanking you, I beg to remain, yours very truly,

"WOODSON MAY,
"Member State Central Committee
Eleventh District."

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 22.—M. J. Farnbaker, the veteran Cairo newspaper man, who during the past three years has become a celebrity in the motion picture world, has resumed his residence in the city. like to commit myself on that point although my present intention is not to do so. As to further explorations much will depend upon Mrs. Cook. I shall, however, probably not go again to the north pole, although I may proceed on a northern expedition for the exploration of the new land we saw on our journey. That is a task which must be carried out. It has been suggested that I go to the south pole, but I am quite content to leave that to Shackleton and Scott."

Dr. Cook requested the Associated Press to correct several errors which inadvertently crept into the first report of his discovery.

"All my thermometrical observations were," he said, "in Fahrenheit and not Centigrade, as printed. The observation on March 30 gave our position as latitude 84.47, longitude 96.36. The first corrected altitude of the sun on April 21, gave 89 degrees 59 minutes 45 seconds, and we then covered the remaining 15 seconds and made further observations."

Explorer Greets His Wife.

Dr. Cook is to stay at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. He has decided that owing to the overwhelming demand for autographs and autographic photographs, he will make a uniform charge of $10 each, and he will set aside all the proceeds to be divided equally between the explorers and the arctic clubs, to be utilized for future explorations.

Dr. Cook's arrival at New York went through progressive stages of enthusiasm as he moved from the lower bay to quarantine, then to the steamer Grand Republic, freighted with upwards of a thousand enthusiastic friends and champions of the explorer, and finally as he set foot on his native soil of Brooklyn and passed through cheering throngs and flower-arched streets to his home at Flushing Avenue.

The photographer never takes people for what they are worth, but for what he can get out of them.

SPENT TWO WEEKS ON BARREN ISLAND SAN CLEMENTE.

Will Make No Statement Until the Communication From Taft Is Received.

Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., Sept. 22.—By wireless to Los Angeles.—After a two weeks' sojourn at San Clemente, a barren island, 40 miles off the coast of Southern California, Gifford Pinchot, chief of the bureau of forestry, arrived here today concerning the Hallinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Pinchot said:

"It is a mystery to me why it has been called the Hallinger-Pinchot fight. I have no fight. Although I am not yet in a position to say definitely, I have every reason to believe that matters will be adjusted satisfactorily as soon as I can return to Washington next week.

"At present I am awaiting a letter from President Taft, which I expect to receive here about Thursday. Further than this I have nothing to say. My duties as a public official demand that no random schemes be made."

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swenson, Waterson, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Hives, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Piles. 25c at all druggists.
